GEEO ITINERARY

China 7/19/2025

Day 1: Beijing Arrive in Beijing at any time. Meet your group for a welcome meeting around 6:00 or 7:00 p.m., and then go on an orientation walk in the area of Beijing near the hotel.

You may arrive in Beijing at any time today. The main airport is Beijing Capital International Airport (PEK). The city's secondary airport is Beijing Daxing International Airport (PKX). Due to the potential for flight delays or cancellations, we recommend that you consider arriving in China at least a day in advance. This will also give you time to adjust to the time difference and overcome any jet lag. You might consider spending a few days in Hong Kong before the program begins, or just arriving early in Beijing to see more of the city. We can book extra hotel nights for you in Beijing before the program begins. Hotel Check-in and Welcome Meeting Please note that hotel check-in usually opens around 2:00-3:00 p.m., so if your flight arrives early in the morning, you may wish to book a pre-trip hotel night so that you can rest when you arrive. There are no planned activities until an intro meeting around 6:00 or 7:00 p.m., usually in the hotel lobby. Check for a sign or ask at the reception desk about the exact time and location of the group meeting. Please make every effort to arrive in time for this meeting. If you are delayed and will arrive late, please inform us. Your tour leader will then leave you a message at the front desk informing you of where and when to meet up tomorrow. After the welcome meeting, join your tour leader for an orientation walk near the hotel to get your bearings. They will show you restaurants, points of interest, supermarkets, ATMs, etc. Opt for a group dinner to get to know your tour leader and travel companions. Joining Instructions If you are arriving at Beijing Capital International Airport (PEK) or Beijing Daxing International Airport (PKX), you can pre-book an airport transfer with us at a rate of $80 for a solo traveler, $40/person for two travel companions arriving on the same flight, $30/person for three people, or $25/person for four people. If you do not pre-book an arrival transfer, you can make your way to the hotel by public transit (Airport Express Train) or taxi.

- Airport Express Train: After exiting the baggage area, follow signs for the underground Airport Express Line. The Airport Express Train ticket costs 25 yuan (~$3.50 USD) from PEK or 35 yuan (~$5 USD) from PKX. The journey takes about 20 minutes from Terminal 3 or Terminal 2 of PEK to Dongzhimen Station (or from PKX to Caoqiao Station), and trains run from 6:20 a.m. to 10:50 p.m. You can take a taxi from Dongzhimen Station/Caoqiao Station to your hotel, or continue by metro to Hufangqiao Station, which is a short walk to the hotel. (From Dongzhimen Station: Line 2 to Chongwenmen Station, then Line 5 to Ciqikou Station, then Line 7 to Hufangqiao Station. From Caoqiao Station: Line 10 to Shuangjing Station, then Line 7 to Hufangqiao Station. The cost for a metro ticket from either Dongzhimen Station or Caoqiao Station to Hufangqiao Station is 5 CNY (~$0.70 USD).
- Taxi: The fastest and most direct/convenient option, but also more expensive. Upon exiting the baggage area, follow signs to the taxi ranks (clearly sign-posted), which have official attendants who will put you in a taxi. We recommend printing out the name of your hotel in Chinese to show the driver. A taxi ride will take around 45 mins-1 hour depending on traffic and should cost around 200-250 yuan for PEK and 250-300 yuan for PKX. If anyone approaches you offering a metered taxi from the parking lot, ignore them—they will rip you off.

Accommodation: Dongfang Hotel (or similar) * For the actual hotel your specific departure will be using, please check your voucher.

Day 2: Beijing Visit the Tiananmen Square and the Forbidden City, and then enjoy free time to explore more of the city.

Explore bustling Beijing today, including the famous Tiananmen Square and the Forbidden City in the heart of the city. Mausoleum, the Great Hall of the People, and the National Museum. At dawn and dusk, there are elaborate flag-raising and lowering ceremonies. For 500 years, the palace at the Forbidden City was only accessible to the emperors' attendants and officials by invitation only. During your visit, see the Clock Exhibition Hall, wander through the Three Great Halls, or stand in the shade of the cypress trees in the Imperial Garden. (Please note: Due to restrictions in China after the COVID-19 pandemic, the maximum daily capacity in the Forbidden City may be significantly limited. This limit on daily admission has had a major impact on availability for both individuals and group tours, especially during the busy summer season. Our local team works very hard to secure tickets, but if we are unable to secure tickets to the Forbidden City, we will visit the Summer Palace and the Temple of Heaven, places similar in architecture and of historical importance.) Use free time later in the day to explore Beijing's hutongs (traditional narrow alleyways and backstreets), or visit the Temple of Heaven, the Drum and Bell Tower, the Lama Temple, or the Summer Palace. Opt to have a Peking Duck meal with your group in the evening.

Accommodation: Dongfang Hotel (or similar)

Day 3: Beijing Travel north to the Great Wall, one of the most iconic sights in all of China.

Travel to the Great Wall of China by private vehicle and see one of the most iconic sights in the entire world. Spend the better part of the day exploring and soaking in the atmosphere. There will be approximately 5 km of walking at the site, which will take 2-3 hours depending on your level of fitness. Travel through the rolling hills of Huairou County at Mutianyu, one of the best-preserved sections of the Great Wall. Take in the scenic views from any of the 22 towers as the wall winds along mountain ridges. The Great Wall is an incredible feat of engineering, stretching over 13,000 miles across the mountain ridges north of Beijing. It was originally constructed to protect Chinese dynasties from the nomadic northern tribes. Even though it failed to keep out the Mongols, it is still one of the country's most remarkable achievements and an iconic destination. The Mutianyu section of the Great Wall is located about 80 km from the Beijing city center. If you don't want to conquer the wall on foot, opt to ride a cable car up to Watchtower 14. You can get a round-trip ticket for the enclosed cable car, or take the cable car up and ride the "toboggan" down (individual cars on tracks). Approximate travel time: 4-5 hrs by private vehicle Accommodation: Dongfang Hotel (or similar)

Day 4: Beijing/Xi'an Catch a bullet train from Beijing to Xi'an and go on an orientation walk.

Day 6: Xi'an/Chengdu Spend a free morning in Xi'an before traveling to Chengdu. In the evening, enjoy a hotpot dinner with the group.

Spend a free morning exploring more of Xi'An. In the afternoon, board a bullet train to Chengdu. After getting settled at the hotel, go on an orientation walk with your tour leader, and then sit down for a hotpot dinner with the group in the evening. Hotpot is a traditional communal dining experience that brings together friends and family around a bubbling pot of richly flavored broth. The centerpiece of the meal is the hotpot itself, usually split into two sections: one containing a fiery red broth infused with Sichuan peppercorns and chilies, and the other a milder, savory broth for those who prefer a less intense heat. As the pot simmers in the middle of the table, diners select from an array of fresh ingredients (tofu, noodles, vegetables, meats, and seafood) laid out on platters and add them to the pot to cook. The table also has an array of dipping sauces, herbs and spices, and other condiments to create your perfect flavor combination. The spiciness of the Sichuan broth can cause a pleasant numbing sensation on the lips and tongue, a hallmark of Chengdu's renowned cuisine. To cool down, sip on a cold beer or enjoy local herbal teas that balance the heat of the meal. Approximate travel time: 3.5-4 hrs by bullet train Accommodation: Boya Celebrity Miramar Hotel (or similar) Meals included: Dinner

Day 7: Chengdu Visit the Chengdu Panda Base and witness the conservation efforts being made to save this endearing species. Later, visit People's Park for an orientation walk ending in Tianfu Square.

Enjoy a morning visit to the Chengdu Research Base of Giant Panda Breeding and see some pandas. Learn about the conservation efforts being made to preserve this threatened bear species endemic to China, as well as the species's life cycle and habitat. The research base has a number of other rare species, including the red panda. Later, take time for lunch on your own before joining your group on an orientation walk from People's Park to Tianfu Square, located in the center of Chengdu. People's Park was the first public park in Chengdu and features an artificial lake, gardens, and teahouses. It is a popular place for locals to enjoy the outdoors. Take the metro back to the hotel before an optional group dinner in the evening. Accommodation: Boya Celebrity Miramar Hotel (or similar)

Day 8: Chengdu/Emei Shan Travel from Chengdu to Leshan and visit the Giant Buddha. Later, drive to the foot of Mt. E'mei.

The 233-foot-tall statue is the largest and tallest stone Buddha statue in the world. Explore carvings and temples near the statue's head before climbing down the path to its enormous toes. Opt to board a boat and head out on the Mingjiang River to get a broader view of the statue. Then, drive to the foot of Mt. E'mei, located southwest of the Sichuan Basin.
