We recommend visiting Casablanca's small medina, beachfront, and notable Art Deco architecture. A must-see is the Hassan II Mosque, open for guided tours from Saturday to Thursday at 09:00, 10:00, 11:00, and 15:00. You can pre-book guided tours on Viator.

Day 2: Casablanca/Chefchaouen Travel to Tangier for a guided tour of the medina before continuing on to Chefchaouen for the evening.

Depart in the morning for Tangier. Tangier is an exotic mix of influences, located at the northern tip of Morocco. With culture, cuisine, and language coming from North Africa, Spain, Portugal, and France, this bustling port city is unique and fascinating. Take a guided tour of city sites, including the medina, kasbah, Grand Socco (a bustling square at the entrance to the medina), and Petit Socco, a little square in the medina perfect for people-watching and mint tea-drinking. Marvel at the panoramic views of Gibraltar, Tarifa, and the meeting point between the Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea. In the afternoon, continue on to Chefchaouen.

Chefchaouen is a gorgeous mountain town in northern Morocco. It is often skipped when traveling the standard route around Morocco but is truly one of the most special places to visit. Set in the Rif Mountains, this town's white-washed buildings with blue accents make it one of the most picturesque places in the country. Known as the Blue City, the distinctive blue color was added by the city's Jewish population who lived there as refugees in the 1930s. The main square is lined with cafés and shops selling handicrafts that are often not available elsewhere in the country.

Approximate travel time: 5 hrs (Casablanca to Tangier) by private vehicle; 2 hrs (Tangier to Chefchaouen) by private vehicle

Note: The route from Tangier to Chefchaouen is curvy in places. If you are susceptible to motion sickness, consider having anti-nausea remedies handy.*

Accommodation: Palacio Del Sol (or similar)

Day 3: Chefchaouen Enjoy a free day in Chefchaouen to explore.

You may choose to throw on your tennis shoes and trek up through the scenic Rif Mountains on a guided hike. Head up, up, up for 3-4 hours along lush mountains, passing small waterfalls and streams, stopping for spectacular panoramic views of Chefchaouen. A traditional lunch awaits at a local gîte at the pinnacle of your hike. Once you reach the piste, jump in a Jeep and head back to the main road to meet your driver.

At sunset, opt to visit the Spanish Mosque for a stunning panoramic view of the city.

Day 4: Chefchaouen/Fez After lunch, take a guided tour of the ancient Roman ruins of Volubilis. Continue on to Fez.

We'll leave Chefchaouen and drive to M'Haya for a traditional lunch that supports rural Moroccan women and children. Proceeds fund education, healthcare, and vocational training programs, and you'll enjoy a home-cooked meal while meeting some of the women involved.

In the afternoon, continue through rolling hills to Volubilis, the best-preserved Roman ruins in North Africa. A certified guide will bring the UNESCO World Heritage Site to life as you explore mosaic floors, bathhouses, and towering marble pillars.

From there, travel on to Fez, one of Morocco's most fascinating cities. Built during the French Protectorate, parts of the city still resemble a French provincial town with cafés, restaurants, and wide boulevards.

This evening is free—an ideal time to catch up on laundry or explore the medina. Browse carpet shops, sample street food, or hunt for leather goods—but don't get lost in the maze of passageways!

Accommodation: Hotel Nour Plaza (or similar)

Meals: Breakfast | Lunch

Day 5: Fez Explore the labyrinth of streets within the famous Fez medina with a local guide. Take in a view of one of the ancient tanneries from above and marvel at the myriad of colors and processes.

Follow your local guide to explore the artisan quarters, sample local treats, visit the mausoleum, and stop by the Al Qarawiyyin University. You'll also visit Fez's famous leather tannery and have the opportunity to learn about and purchase locally made leather goods.

Please note: Only nationally certified local Fez guides are permitted to guide within the medina; your main tour leader will not be able to accompany you in this area.

Don't forget to pick up the laundry you dropped off yesterday before enjoying some free time in the afternoon to explore further or relax.

Pass over the Middle Atlas Mountains through the pre-desert countryside with its deep gorges filled with a splendid oasis of green palm groves, finally arriving at the sand dunes of the Sahara Desert.

We spend the night in a desert auberge, located right on the edge of the dunes. Here we will have a local-style dinner and spend the night. Please note: some rooms may have shared bathroom facilities at the desert auberge.

Approximate travel time: 10-11 hrs, including stops

In the late afternoon, set out on a camel ride deep into the dunes to watch the sunset. Local guides will show you how to ride safely and may even teach you the desert trick of tying a turban—both practical for the sun and perfect for photos.

As evening falls, enjoy a traditional dinner before gathering around a campfire beneath the stars. Share stories, listen to the beat of local drums, and soak in the magic of the desert night.

Day 8: Merzouga/Todra Gorge Rise early to watch the sunrise. Walk through local village farmlands before exploring the cliff-sided canyons of the mighty

Todra Gorge.

Rise early to watch the sunrise. After breakfast, continue by private bus into the Todra Valley.

The Todra River has carved out cliff-sided canyons through the mountains. The final 300 m of the gorge are the most spectacular as the canyon narrows to a flat stony track as little as 10 m (33 ft) wide in places with sheer and smooth rock walls up to 160 m (525 ft) high on each side. Today, the Todra River looks more like a stream as it runs its way through the gorge, with hotels and restaurants huddled against the steep walls. It is easy to walk through the gorge, as there is a well-maintained dirt road to walk along. This scenic and serene spot is great for hiking, relaxing on the edge of the river, or sampling some local Amazigh delicacies.

Approximate travel time: 3.5 hrs, including stops

Accommodation: Amazir Hotel (or similar)

Meals included: Breakfast

Day 9: Todra Gorge/Aït Ben Haddou Visit the Aït Ben Haddou Kasbah, a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Opt to participate in a tagine cooking class for an intro to Moroccan cuisine.

Continue on to the fascinating and beautiful village of Aït Ben Haddou, a wonderful example of a kasbah (a type of fortress). Explore the UNESCO World Heritage Site with your tour leader. Of all the remaining kasbahs in Morocco, the walls and interior of this area are the most intact. Like many of the earthen-built fortresses in Ouarzazate, Aït Ben Haddou has been used in many film and television productions like Gladiator, Babel, and Game of Thrones.

In the evening, there may be a chance for an optional cooking class. Learn the secrets of how to make the perfect tagine and then sample your skills for your dinner.

Approximate travel time: 4 hrs

Accommodation: Riad Maktoub (or similar)

Meals included: Breakfast

Day: 10 Aït Ben Haddou/Around Enjoy a hike to the village of Around at the base of the High Atlas Mountains, taking in the stunning views of Mt. Toubkal. Dig into a home-cooked dinner at the gîte where you will stay for the night.

We leave the pre-desert country for the magnificent High Atlas Mountains landscape, crossing the Tizi n'Tichka pass at 2260 m, before heading into the splendid Toubkal National Park. We pass through small villages on winding mountain roads, arriving at the village of Imlil.

With our main luggage transported for us, we head out on a 1-2 hour hike from Imlil to the little village of Around (Aremd), to arrive at our simple mountain gîte for the night. Breathe in the fresh mountain air while taking in amazing views of the surrounding Atlas Mountains before sitting down to a traditional, homemade dinner made with local produce.

The hike to the gîte is quite steep in parts, and is on uneven terrain, so take it at your own pace! Some participants have recommended hiking poles for those with knee issues. Alternatively, you can opt for a taxi ride to the gîte for approximately 50 dirhams.

Our accommodation is multi-share with up to six beds in each room. Bedding is provided, but you will need to bring your own towel. Bathroom facilities are shared.

Along the way stop by the G Adventure—supported Zarbiat Achbarou Cooperative Project for a carpet weaving demonstration and some tea before continuing on. When we reach Essaouira, the rest of the day is free to explore as you wish.

Essaouira is a funky, Portuguese-flavored, hippie coastal village. Browse the many shops for leather, jewelry, lamps, or trinkets. Watch the brightly-painted ships bring their catch into the busy harbor or take a stroll along the long, sandy beach. This is the perfect place to enjoy some local seafood and unwind.

Day 13: Essaouira/Marrakech Drive to Marrakech for a medina tour with a local guide. Opt to visit Djemaa el Fna Square in the evening to see the musicians and street performers that gather there.

In the morning, we continue our journey to Marrakech. Once you've arrived in the Red City, join your certified city guide for a tour of the Marrakech medina. Shop to your heart's content in the souks with their narrow, winding streets as you search out spices, traditional jalabas and slippers, or the famous Moroccan lanterns. Visit the historical Koutoubia Minaret and gardens, the Mellah, and the Saadian Tombs, a complex of sepulchers and mausoleums that house the remains of Saadian Sultan Ahmed Al Mansour Ed Dahb. The tombs were sealed off until their re-discovery in 1917. Tour the grounds of the Bahia Palace, marveling at the intricate decoration, and experience the sights and sounds of the bustling Jemaa el-Fnaa square.

As the day progresses the snake charmers are replaced by Chleuh dancing-boys, storytellers, magicians, and peddlers of traditional medicines. As the sun sets, the square fills with dozens of food stalls, packed with locals and the entertaining chefs and waiters. Grab a spot on a bench with the other diners and try the Tanjia (slow-cooked lamb), Harira soup, grilled seafood, famous Moroccan couscous, tajine, snails, or even sheep's head for the truly adventurous.
